

3 CLASS PRESENTATION

#1 CLASS PRESENTATION:

Shar: Hello, I am Sharlene Wells Hawkes.

Pastor: And I am Pastor Charles Petty. On behalf of the Internet Keep Safe Coalition, we welcome you.

Shar: You will be viewing the training for the iKeepSafe "Class Presentation" for Book 1, Faux Paw the Techno Cat- Adventures in the Internet. We commend you for your willingness to participate in giving students online safety instruction.

Pastor: As a religious leader and a parent, I know young people are tech-savvy. But along with knowing how to make computers work, it is important our children know how to use them safely.

Shar: The Internet Keep Safe Coalition, iKeepSafe, is a partnership of government leaders, law enforcement agencies, and the health and education communities in all 50 states. One way iKeepSafe helps children is teaching the 3 rules of Internet safety. They are called the "3 Keeps: Keep Safe, Keep Away, and Keep Telling."

Pastor: The book and presentation will focus on the 3 rules: KEEP SAFE your personal information, KEEP AWAY from Internet strangers, and KEEP TELLING a parent or trusted adult. By starting early, children will learn about online dangers.

Shar: You will find additional resources and information on the website, iKeepSafe.org. Thank you for your effort in helping children understand how to keep safe online.

#2 CLASS PRESENTATION:

Shar: Hello, I am Sharlene Wells Hawkes.

Pastor: And I am Pastor Charles Petty. We welcome you on behalf of iKeepSafe. You will be watching the iKeepSafe "CLASS PRESENTATION," for book 2, Faux Paw Meets the First Lady.

Shar: First Lady Laura Bush not only wrote the foreword for Faux Paw Meets the First Lady, but recorded her voice for the animated cartoon. This story focuses on "cyber-bullying" and how to handle this online problem. You can be assured that students will be facing this issue as they use technology. One interesting detail is that not only is Faux Paw a real cat, but Ernie lived with the Bushes when they were in the Texas Governor's Mansion.

Pastor: This story teaches about cyber-ethics. That is treating people with respect when using the Internet. There are 3 KEEPS of Internet safety: KEEP Safe, KEEP Away, KEEP Telling. This training teaches children to KEEP telling a parent or trusted adult if they are cyber-bullied.

Shar: The Internet Keep Safe Coalition, iKeepSafe, is a partnership of government leaders, law enforcement agencies, and the health and education communities in all 50 states. For additional resources and information, go to the website, iKeepSafe.org.

#3 Class Presentation:

Shar: Hello, I am Sharlene Wells Hawkes.

Pastor: I am Pastor Charles Petty. On behalf of iKeepSafe, we welcome you and congratulate you for taking part in protecting children.

Shar: You will see a taped example of a "Class Presentation" for Book 3, Faux Paw Goes to the Games- Balancing Real Life and Screen Time. Though this book has the exciting setting of the Olympics, it focuses on a growing concern- that of Internet addictive behavior. Some individuals spend excessive amounts of time on the computer, avoiding family, friends, and responsibilities.

Pastor: Parents and children need to be aware that a healthy balance is important for every child. We encourage you to prepare the presentation and share this information with elementary school students.

Shar: The Internet Keep Safe Coalition, iKeepSafe, is a partnership of government leaders, law enforcement agencies, and the health & education communities in all 50 states.

Pastor: Our young people are very knowledgeable when it comes to technology, but there is more to understanding it than just making it work. Technology is a great resource and can be used in a positive way, but each child needs to learn how to use technology safely to enjoy the benefits that are intended. This information will help them reach their potential.

Shar: The website, iKeepSafe.org, offers you additional detailed information and resources. Thank you for your willingness to participate in teaching the safe and healthy way to use technology.

FBO & Community Group Introduction #1:

Pastor: Hello, I am Pastor Charles Petty.

Shar: And I am Sharlene Wells Hawkes.

Pastor: On behalf of the Internet Keep Safe Coalition, we welcome you. We are appreciative of your interest in learning how to keep children safe online. Along with leading a religious congregation, I am also a parent who shares a common concern for the welfare of children.

Shar: Though I have the title of a former Miss America, the most important job I will ever have is the mother of 4 children. Parents and grandparents today have a concern that did not exist when I was growing up. Technology has given us a new responsibility. Though these tools are helpful, their power can be used in destructive ways.

Pastor: This Internet safety presentation will be helpful to all families because we face the same challenges. Parents are looking for ways to provide a positive online experience for their family. A little knowledge can go a long way in making this possible.

Shar: We are convinced that "You don't have to be a computer expert to protect your child online." This presentation will cover several topics, but every parent or guardian, no matter what skill level, can do 3 things:

1. KEEP your computer in a common area with the screen turned outward.
2. KEEP communicating. Ask your youth questions.
3. KEEP alert. If a child is connected to the Internet, you have a responsibility to be engaged and attentive.

Pastor: If you have a specific concern for any member of your family, I encourage you to seek assistance in dealing with these problems.

Shar: For additional detailed information and family resources, go to the website, iKeepSafe.org.

Pastor: We hope this information will help your family have a safe and healthy Internet experience.

FBO & Community Group Introduction- #2:

Pastor: Hello, I am Pastor Charles Petty.

Shar: And I am Sharlene Wells Hawkes.

Pastor: On behalf of the Internet Keep Safe Coalition, we welcome you. This is Part 2 of helping your family keep safe online. Members of all religions and community groups are facing the challenges that technology has introduced. This information will help your family have a safe online experience.

Shar: Technology is beneficial, but has introduced new risks. The good news is, a little knowledge can go a long way to help you be alert to online dangers. "You don't have to be a computer expert to protect your child online." Every parent or guardian, no matter what skill level, can do 3 things:

1. KEEP your computer in a common area with the screen turned outward.
2. KEEP communicating. Ask your youth questions.
3. KEEP alert. If a child is connected to the Internet, you have a responsibility to be engaged and attentive.

Pastor: Though we know our children must have 21st century skills, it requires us to be vigilant and alert to online dangers.

Shar: The website, iKeepSafe.org, offers you additional information and family resources.

Pastor: If you have a specific concern about a family member, I encourage you to speak with your faith leader or an expert in this field. We hope this information will help your family have a safe and healthy Internet experience.
